

Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Energy Information Administration, respectively) whose sole missions are statistical; these organizations are provided to businesses and State and local governments about consumer spending and trends for a key activity in the economy. In addition, the 1996 Survey of State and Local Government Employment and the collection of data on State and local government employee benefits, a component of the Census mately $7.2 million of NASS' reimbursable work is done for other agencies in USDA. In particular, NASS will receive $4.2 million from the Economic measures related to health status, health insurance coverage, health care support data dissemination; to plan for Census 2000 in Puerto Rico and the information for food and nutrition-related programs and public policy decisions.

Crime and Justice Statistics

Statistics of Income

The Statistics of Income (SOI) Division in the Internal Revenue Service provides annual income, financial, and tax data, based for the most part on changes to the CPI infrastructures to improve the measurement methods, timeliness, and quality of the estimates.

-

and demand conditions, commercial trade relationships, and market opportu-

These existing programs were developed at different times to meet different

Canada; and the United States, through the Office of Management and principles to be used in reaching a final decision on standards for the classification of data on race and ethnicity and provided information about the report,

FAS	Foreign Agricultural Service (Agriculture)
FBI	Federal Bureau of Investigation (Justice)
FCS	Food and Consumer Service (Agriculture)

Department of Defense

Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC)

<http://www.cpsc.gov/>

(Go to "About Us;" go to "CPSC's Clearinghouse") or (Go to "Library;"

